

I am convinced that those around us, including and expecially children, follow our good and bad values thus we have to continually act in a positive respectful manner...

Unfortunately Hollywood and the entertainment industry has shoved all sorts of crap down our throghts. Society, I believe is following their artform more than the artform is following society!

Thus as parents we need to use the digital settings on our entertainment systems "ourselves" to keep the very young from watching all the sex and imoral behavier.

Its our job and NOT the government or some other special interest groups job to digitally block risky matterial.

Its very important to protect freedom of speech and our constitution.

Thanks

Bill
